

LIS 643 (Archives and Manuscripts Management) Syllabus, Fall 2022

Instructor: Matthew Strandmark, Education Archivist, Special Collections Research Center, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky (he/him/his)

Office Phone: 859-257-1949

Email: mstrandmark@uky.edu

Course Description

This course is designed to introduce library and information science professionals to the field of archival studies, including, but not limited to, collecting, processing, curating, preserving, sharing, accessing and digitizing items of cultural, social, or material value. It also focuses on ethical concerns and archival theory to help students better understand the world of archives and special collections libraries. Prerequisite: LIS 602 or consent of instructor.

Course Objective

Students will become familiar with core archival principles, theories, and practices. These include appraisal, acquisition, arrangement and description, access and outreach, and preservation. The course discusses the importance of archives in the management of knowledge for society and organizations.

Course Policies

Policies concerning academic integrity, excused absences and academic accommodations due to disability are available online at: <http://ci.uky.edu/lis/sites/default/files/policies.pdf>. If you have questions or specific issues with these policies please contact me directly. For information on academic offenses (cheating and plagiarism), please see the Faculty Senate page on Academic Offenses Rules for Undergraduate and Graduate Students.

Diversity, Inclusivity, and Inclusion

The University of Kentucky is committed to our core values of diversity and inclusion, mutual respect and human dignity, and a sense of community (Governing Regulations XIV). We acknowledge and respect the seen and unseen diverse identities and experiences of all members of the university community (<https://www.uky.edu/regs/gr14>). These identities include but are not limited to those based on race, ethnicity, gender identity and expressions, ideas and perspectives, religious and cultural beliefs, sexual orientation, national origin, age, ability, and socioeconomic status. We are committed to equity and justice and providing a learning and engaging community in which every member is engaged, heard, and valued.

We strive to rectify and change behavior that is inconsistent with our principles and commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. If students encounter such behavior in a course, they are encouraged to speak with the instructor of record and/or the Office of Institutional Equity and Equal Opportunity. Students may also contact a faculty member within the department, program director, the director of undergraduate or graduate studies, the department chair, any college administrator, or the dean. All of these individuals are mandatory reporters under University policies.

Technology Information & Resources

Distance Learning Students are expected to have a minimum level of technological acumen and the availability of technological resources. Students must have regular access a computer with a reliable Internet connection and audio capabilities. Internet Explorer 7 (IE) or Firefox 2.x are the recommended browsers for those using a Windows-based PC. Those using Firefox 3.x may encounter problems with assignment uploads. Those using an Apple computer with MAC OS X (10.5.x) may use Firefox 3.x or Safari 3.x. Please be certain that your computer and/or browser allow you to view Adobe Reader documents (.pdf). Microsoft Office and other software products are free for students: <https://iweb.uky.edu/MSDownload/>.

As your instructor, I am your first go-to person for technology problems. If you need more immediate assistance, please contact UKIT.

Mental and Emotional Health

As your instructor it is my responsibility to help you build relevant skills and create original scholarship. In addition to these professional responsibilities, I also care about your mental and emotional health. While graduate-level work is challenging, I will not put you in a situation where you cannot succeed. If you feel you are struggling with mental or emotional health and feel comfortable speaking with me about it, please reach out to me by any means of contact at any time. If you do not feel comfortable speaking with me, please visit the UK Counseling Center website (<http://www.uky.edu/counselingcenter/>) for additional resources or contact them at 859-257-8701.

Grading Rubric

This course is composed of five major components: three individual assignments, one group assignment, and participation (composed of discussion responses and weekly readings). Details on assignment grading, instructions, and additional information can be found in Canvas.

All papers and assignments will be evaluated for organization, clarity and writing appropriate for graduate-level work. Assignments should be proofed for spelling, grammar, and presentation and follow The Chicago Manual of Style. Late submissions will receive a reduction of a half letter grade per day after the due date.

Percentage of Final Grade

Assignment 1: 20 points

Assignment 2: 25 points

Assignment 3: 30 points

Participation: 25 points

Grading Scale

[90 points – 100 points] = A (Exceptional Achievement)

[80 points – 89 points] = B (High Achievement)

[70 points – 79 points] = C (Average Achievement)

[0 points – 69 points] = F (Failing)

Assignment #1: Building Collections (due by midnight, 9/25) 4-5 pages (double-spaced)

Based on our readings up to this point on archival history/theory, collection development, and acquisitions, answer these questions: How should archives or special collections libraries decide which collections to acquire or purchase? What ethical concerns should be addressed when archives and special collections libraries purchase collections? Should there be uniform, universal rules for how institutions build collections?

Assignment #2: Exhibit/Outreach Project (due by midnight, 11/13)

You will be assigned a digital collection from ExploreUK and must create an exhibit featuring at least 10 images, documents, or artifacts and design an exhibit for display at an archival institution. Assignments must include captions, exhibit narrative, outreach plan, and at least one teaching activity that coincides with the collection.

Assignment #3: Archival Challenges (due by midnight, 12/11), 7-8 pages (double-spaced)

You are an archivist preparing to give a report to the leadership council of the nation's biggest archival professional organization. Using the readings, conversations, and discussion responses throughout this semester answer this prompt: What is the biggest challenge facing the archival field? Based on this challenge, issue, or problem, how should archivists work to meet it? How do you see it influencing the future of the field? What technology, strategies, or processes should institutions or repositories employ in order to thrive in the face of this challenge?

Discussion Responses: (12) throughout the Semester

Your discussion responses are the main form of participation for this course. For each discussion prompt, the instructor will briefly discuss the issues brought up in that week's readings. Discussion responses must be substantial, based in the topic of that week's reading, and show a deep understanding of the topic presented in order to obtain complete credit. Responses are due by midnight of the following Sunday. (Example: For the week of August 22nd, your discussion response is due by midnight on January 28th).
