Information Resources and Services- Summer Session

Instructor: Joe Kohlburn

Email: joe.kohlburn@uky.edu

Office Hours: Off campus, meetings by appointment via google hangouts/skype.

During the week, the Instructor will respond to emails within 24 hours. During weekends, the Instructor will respond to emails by Monday.

Class Information: Online class; no scheduled meetings.

Course Description

This course provides an introduction to the theory and practice of information services, which are defined broadly as the activities in which information professionals engage to connect people to the information they need, including information needs assessment, direct information provision, information literacy instruction, and intermediation for all stages of the information search process. Emphasis is placed on the roles played by information professionals to help diverse users define and negotiate their information needs, navigate user system interfaces, formulate effective search strategies for information retrieval, and evaluate and select information. Attention is also given to the skills necessary to plan for, implement, and evaluate the delivery of information services in a wide variety of organizational contexts. The ethical foundations of information services are also considered.

Prerequisites

LIS 601.

Student Learning Outcomes

After completing this course students will be able to meet Program Learning Outcomes 5 and 9.

Specifically, students will be able to:

- identify methods for assessing the needs of the constituencies served by an information organization (5.1);
- describe the attributes of high quality, user-centered information services (5.2);
- describe the professional behaviors that contribute to high quality information services (5.3);
- apply instructional strategies in the provision of information services (5.4);

- evaluate information services, particularly in light of the need to reach diverse and underserved populations (5.5);
- communicate effectively in writing (9.1);
- communicate effectively verbally (9.2);
- apply critical thinking to solve professional problems (9.3).

Additional Readings: Additional required readings are listed at the end of the syllabus following the course schedule.

Course Activities and Assignments

This course is taught as an online/distance education course via Canvas. It is expected that students will devote a considerable amount of time outside the formal class to study materials covered as well as become acquainted with the literature and reference tools.

Class Assignments: There are ten assignments in this course.

Assignments	Weight	Due Dates
Website Creation	5%	6/15
Reference Source Review I	10%	06/22
Reference Source Review II	10%	06/25
Database Analysis	10%	06/29
Information Portal	10%	07/09
Reference Services Evaluation	10%	07/13
Reference Services Plan	10%	07/20
Short-Essay/ Blog Post Summary	10%	07/23
Instructional Unit	10%	07/30
Practical Exercise	10%	08/04
Class Participation	5%	Weekly

A description of each assignment will be posted on Canvas at least one week before it is due.

Course Grading

Grading Scale (No rounding)

- 92 - 100 = A (Exceptional Achievement)
- 82 - 91 = B (High Achievement)
- 70 - 81 = C (Average Achievement)
- 0 - 69 = E (Failing)

Participation: Class participation constitutes 5% of the student's grade. Students are expected to complete weekly exercises and readings and write short discussion responses. Instructions will be posted on Canvas.

Course Policies

Submission of Assignments

Course assignments will be posted to your professional website. Assignments are due by midnight of the due date noted on each assignment.

Since this is an accelerated course, late work will not be accepted without prior permission of the instructor or in the case of an excused absence. This is a strict rule. No exceptions.

Excused Absences

Students need to notify the professor of absences prior to class when possible. S.R. 5.2.4.2 defines the following as acceptable reasons for excused absences: (a) serious illness, (b) illness or death of family member, © University-related trips, (d) major religious holidays, and (e) other circumstances found to fit “reasonable cause for nonattendance” by the professor.

In the case of an excused absence, students have one week to make up missed assignments.

Students anticipating an absence for a major religious holiday are responsible for notifying the instructor in writing of anticipated absences due to their observance of such holidays no later than the last day in the semester to add a class. Information regarding dates of major religious holidays may be obtained through the religious liaison, Mr. Jake Karnes (859-257-2754).

Students are expected to withdraw from the class if more than 20% of the classes scheduled for the semester are missed (excused or unexcused) per university policy.

Verification of Absences

Students may be asked to verify their absences in order for them to be considered excused. Senate Rule

5.2.4.2 states that faculty have the right to request “appropriate verification” when students claim an excused absence because of illness or death in the family. Appropriate notification of absences due to university-related trips is required prior to the absence.

Academic Integrity

Per university policy, students shall not plagiarize, cheat, or falsify or misuse academic records. Students are expected to adhere to University policy on cheating and plagiarism in all courses. The minimum penalty for a first offense is a zero on the assignment on which the offense occurred. If the offense is considered severe or the student has other academic offenses on their record, more serious penalties, up to suspension from the university may be imposed.

Plagiarism and cheating are serious breaches of academic conduct. Each student is advised to become familiar with the various forms of academic dishonesty as explained in the Code of Student Rights and Responsibilities. Complete information can be found at the following website:

<http://www.uky.edu/Ombud>. A plea of ignorance is not acceptable as a defense against the charge of academic dishonesty. It is important that you review this information as all ideas borrowed from others need to be properly credited.

Part II of Student Rights and Responsibilities (available online <http://www.uky.edu/StudentAffairs/Code/part2.html>) states that all academic work, written or otherwise, submitted by students to their instructors or other academic supervisors, is expected to be the result of their own thought, research, or self-expression. In cases where students feel unsure about the question of plagiarism involving their own work, they are obliged to consult their instructors on the matter before submission.

When students submit work purporting to be their own, but which in any way borrows ideas, organization, wording or anything else from another source without appropriate acknowledgement of the fact, the students are guilty of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes reproducing someone else's work, whether it be a published article, chapter of a book, a paper from a friend or some file, or something similar to this. Plagiarism also includes the practice of employing or allowing another person to alter or revise the work which a student submits as his/her own, whoever that other person may be.

Students may discuss assignments among themselves or with an instructor or tutor, but when the actual work is done, it must be done by the student, and the student alone. When a student's assignment involves research in outside sources of information, the student must carefully acknowledge exactly what, where and how he/she employed them. If the words of someone else are used, the student must put quotation marks around the passage in question and add an appropriate indication of its origin. Making simple changes while leaving the organization, content and phraseology intact is plagiaristic. However, nothing in these Rules shall apply to those ideas which are so generally and freely circulated as to be a part of the public domain (Section 6.3.1).

Please note: Any assignment you turn in may be submitted to an electronic database to check for plagiarism.

Accommodations Due to Disability

If you have a documented disability that requires academic accommodations, please see me as soon as possible during scheduled office hours. In order to receive accommodations in this course, you must provide me with a Letter of Accommodation from the Disability Resource Center (Room 2, Alumni Gym, 257-2754, email address: jkarnes@email.uky.edu) for coordination of campus disability services available to students with disabilities.

Civility and Professionalism

Students must learn to meet the standards of professional behavior and treat each other with respect. Critical inquiry is important, but attacking other persons, verbally or otherwise, is not accepted.

Students must learn to receive and act on constructive criticism, be reliable and responsible, polite and respectable of others, and focus on producing above quality work.
