COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course examines the relationship between social media and society with special emphasis on the nonprofit and voluntary sector. Specifically, the course sheds light on how social media may benefit underserved communities, community organizations, groups, and citizens. Toward that end, students will collaborate with nonprofit organizations through the community service-learning project to develop most effective and efficient communication strategies for community networking and civic engagement using various social media venues.

PURPOSE OF THE COURSE

Throughout the course, students will learn to:

- Comprehend various theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches at multiple levels regarding community, social media, and citizenship.
- Criticize current issues and problems that occur in community processes and communication in the context of the roles of social media.
- Connect various theoretical and methodological approaches to current issues and problems in community communications especially for social media communications.
- Conduct critical analyses regarding community communications especially social media communications.
- Convey creative thinking and knowledge to community and civic life that can nurture the nonprofit and voluntary sector at local, national, and global levels.

TEXTBOOK AND COURSE MATERIALS

Textbooks

- James Curran & Michael Gurevitch (2005). Mass Media and Society (4th Edition). Hodder Arnold. [Selective chapters available on Canvas]

Course Materials

- Course materials including course readings are available on the Canvas Website.

- Additional course readings regarding individual and group projects will be provided during the course.

REQUIREMENTS

Class Participation

Attendance:

- All students are expected to attend every class through the whole semester.
- Only absences with reasonable excuses are allowed throughout the entire semester.
- If you miss a class without a reasonable excuse, you will not be eligible to receive an A no matter how well you perform on other assignments and activities (B if one absence, C if two absences, and D if three absences).

Discussion:

- You will turn in your one-page discussion note based on the required readings where you should include one discussion question with brief description (each discussion note is worth 5 points; 20 readings X 5 pts=100 pts).
- All students are expected to participate in class and group discussions.

Concept Quizzes

- Students will take three concept quizzes based on course readings, lectures, and/or class discussions during the course.
- You will define five concepts for each quiz, which is worth 50 points (5 concepts X 10 pts =50 pts).

The Nonprofit Engagement Project (NEP)

Learning Objectives:

- To gain knowledge regarding the nonprofit organizations as voluntary-based and charitable organizations in terms of their social, political and economic status.
- To understand the importance of the nonprofit organizations in local communities through their history, missions, and activities.
- To learn communication ways that the nonprofit organizations have developed through social media along with information and communication technologies (ICTs).

Group Activities:

- At the beginning of the course, students will organize into project groups for which approximately four to five students work together as a group.
- Then, each group with the instructor will choose a charitable nonprofit organization in Lexington, Kentucky.
- By definition, a charitable nonprofit organization is a 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt organization that is registered with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- For the community service learning project or the Nonprofit Engagement Project (NEP), students will conduct group projects with charitable nonprofit organizations to develop methods of effective and efficient communication through social media such as blogs, Wikis, social networking sites (e.g., Facebook), YouTube, microblogging sites (e.g., Twitter) etc.

- Each group desirably in partnership with each nonprofit organization will present its group project in class during the weeks of group project presentations.
- More detailed information and materials regarding the Nonprofit Engagement Project (NEP) will be provided by the instructor during the course.

Project Proposal:

- Each group will present a short project proposal in class on February 25.
- About 15 – 20 minutes will be given to each presentation followed by Q&As.

Group Project Presentation:

- Each group will present its group project on the weeks of the group project presentation, April 19, 21, and/or 26.
- It is highly recommended for each group to present its group project with representation from the nonprofit organization.
- Approximately 30 minutes will be given to each presentation followed by Q&As.
- More detailed and specific information regarding the group project presentation will be provided.

Final Report:

- Each group will write a 15-20 page final report.
- A specific format will be provided.
- The final report is DUE in class by April 21.
- Both electronic and hard copy versions should be submitted.
- The final reports will be sent to nonprofit organizations.

Group Project Evaluation:

- Group project will be evaluated by the instructor as well as peer students.
- Evaluation sheets will be provided during the presentations.

Sustainable Engagement: Continuous Support

- Even after the project and graduation, it is highly recommended and encouraged for students to continue to be involved in the nonprofit, voluntary, and charitable sector as a member, volunteer, donor, and/or supporter.
- Through a sustainable engagement and continuous support, you will be a good citizen in your community.
